CAMPBELL IN P A L AT PALO ALTO

The A nad B basketball teams of Campbell High School open their P. A. L. schedule with Palo Alto, Jan. 15, at 8 o'clock on the latter's court.

The B team promises to give Palo Altos a good run for their money.

Coach Noddin has had a rather tough time rounding up material for the unlimited class, but now has a very fast aggregation developed. He has some very fast forwards such as Monte, Nishida, and Gardner. Burns is another dangerous man. Tainter plays the pivot position very well with Freitas as an understudy. The guards are made up of Merrill, E. Nelson, Murdoch and Talia. Merrill and Nelson, as regulars, are two guards that will keep any two forwards in the P. A. L. well covered.

The unlimited proves to be a fast team. They have beaten some very fast aggregations, one being the "Y" Golds, also the Santa Clara Preps, and several others.

The following is schedule of the Campbell team:

Jan. 7—Campbell—Bye
Jan. 14—Campbell at Palo Alto.
Jan. 18—San Mateo at Campbell.
Jan. 21—Campbell at Sequoia.
Jan. 28—Campbell at San Jose.
Feb. 1—Campbell—Bye
Feb. 5—Palo Alto at Campbell
Feb. 12—Campbell at San Mateo.
Feb. 15—Sequoia at Campbell.
Feb. 19—San Jose at Campbell
Schedules will be given to all those attending the first game at Campbell.

The meeting adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments.

Wheat growers of Tulare county anticipate one of the best wheat years since 1916, because of favorable weather conditions. A number of them had seedbeds prepared and grain sown before the recent rains.

RESOLVED: JANUARY 1, 1927

A little more deed and a little less creed
A little more giving and a little less greed
A little more bearing other people's load;
A little more God-speeds on the dusty road;
A little more rose and a little less thorn
To sweeten the air for the sick and forlorn.
A little more Golden Rule in the marts of trade,
A little more sunshine and a little less shade;
A little more respect for fathers and mothers;
A little less stepping on the toes of others;
A little less knocking and a little more cheer.
For the struggling hero that's left in the rear;
A little more love and a little less hate,
A little more of neighboring chat at the gate,
A little more of the helping hand by you and me,
A little less of this grave yard sentimentality,
A little more of the flowers in the pathway of life,
A little less on coffins at the end of strife.

COUNTY CHAMBER PLANS FOR FUTURE OF VALLEY AT PALO ALTO

Routine matters of business were on the program at the regular monthly meeting of Santa Clara County Consolidated held at the Cardinal Hotel, Palo Alto, Tuesday noon of this week.

Frank Hoge, President of the Palo Alto Realty Board and of the Palo Alto Merchants Association welcomed the members to the city. Dr. W. I. Merrill, unable to be present at the meeting, sent the announcement that he wished all those who were interested in the proposed sanitation districts of the county to be present at a mass meeting to be held on that subject at the Santa Clara Town Hall at eight o'clock in the evening of Friday, Jan. 7th. This meeting is in anticipation of the hearing to be held on county sanitation questions before the Board of Supervisors on January 17th.

Some discussion was held on suggested names for the proposed Skyline Boulevard.

Communication was received from the Flower Lovers Club announcing the Fourth Annual Midwinter Flower Show to be held at the San Jose Chamber of Commerce on January 7 and 8. Each community was invited to exhibit and compete for awards.

Plans for 1927 Prune Week were discussed and definite conclusions will be reached at the next meeting, at which time final reports of the 1926 "week" will be made.

Al Roth, Comptroller at Stanford University, told of many of the developments at the University that were aiding the industrial and agricultural life of the community and nation. He stated that the University was ready at all times to assist in the progress of the county but requested all citizens not to be impatient in the seemingly slow development of the land owned by the University, whereas in reality the administration were really making plans far in the future that would result in far greater benefits to the county.

President Wendell C. Thomas announced the coming convention of the State Secretarial Association in San Jose January 13, 14, 15 and invited all those who were interested in Chamber of Commerce work to attend.

Mrs. L. N. Scott, President of the Saratoga Chamber of Commerce announced that the tentative plans for the Spring Blossom Festival included a program of singing by the Vallesingers and various kinds of folk dancing, under the direction of Leroy Brandt and Mrs. George Fontaine, respectively.

The next meeting is to be at Saratoga on February 1st.

CONSOLIDATED CO-OPERATION FOR FEB 22

Associate Members
Chambers of Commerce
Santa Clara County Consolidated
Gentlemen:

The Campbell Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the thirty-third annual Santa Clara County Old Settlers' Day celebration on Tuesday, February 22nd.

The reunion of old settlers has shown a decided increase in both numbers and interest each year and we realize that it has far outgrown its former local character. Last year we enlisted and received the support of the entire county and the results were most gratifying. Plans, which will make this year's program more interesting and attractive, are well under way. We earnestly urge you to assist us, in perpetuating this event which is of such great sentimental value to the early residents. Will you kindly furnish us at your earliest convenience with a list of names of those persons in your community who have been residents of Santa Clara County for the past twenty-five years or longer.

The enclosed article is suggested for publicity use in your local paper. May we ask that you have it appear in an early issue and we desire to each registered name you submit. We consider it a great privilege of acting as hosts to these early pioneers and are very anxious to do so in a most satisfying manner. Your hearty co-operation will be deeply appreciated.

Sincerely and respectfully
Campbell Chamber of Commerce
C. W. Shumway, Pres.

Christmas Reunion

The following group of relatives assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fay for Christmas dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. L. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. John Stringer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Fay, and daughter, Ethel, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Wolcott.

After all had done justice to a turkey dinner they presented their hosts with two leather upholstered chairs among other gifts.

B. O. Curry, our pioneer real estate man in this community and always progressive has made another stride in the right direction. His latest improvement is the installation of leaded plate glass fronts in the fronts of the Campbell Fruit Market and Drug Store with marble baseboards. This makes a more attractive front to the Curry Block and facilitates arrangement of the window displays.

M. J. Promoted

Merlin Joseph Bohnett, who received his first banking training and experience in Campbell and later joined the force of the Bank of San Jose has been given the post of manager at the new Hester district branch bank on the Alameda. This comes as a compliment to his efficient and faithful service at the head office. Merlin has a host of friends about Campbell, where he now lives, who extend him hearty congratulations.

C. OF C. BANQUET, JAN. 14th

CLUB SPONSORS CARD PARTY

At the regular meeting of the Country Woman's Club Monday it was decided to hold a card party with a short program sometime this month, probably Saturday, Jan. 29th.

This will be an informal party and a pleasant social evening is assured. Everybody is most cordially invited, and a generous patronage is hoped for, as the annual spring festival was omitted last spring with naturally a subsequent depletion of the treasury. The program which followed was in charge of Mrs. John Duncan, chairman.

She introduced Mrs. Robert Parkhill who reviewed "Sorrell and Son" by Warwick Deeping. She gave a brief outline of the life of the author, who is an Englishman, and the story is located in that country, after the war. Readings from the book were very interesting.

As Mrs. Ira Abbott was not present, Mrs. Gilbert Newcomb gave a very pleasing review of the "Orphan Angel," by Eleanor Wylie. Several charming descriptive bits were read to show the best feature of the book.

Mrs. Duncan then named several of the more worth while recent books of fiction, but lack of time prevented her giving any report on them.

On Jan. 17, Miss Emma Cohen, president of Los Gatos History Club, will be the speaker for the Country Woman's Club. Her subject will be "International Relations," and as her club has made that subject its study for several years, with series of lectures and many noted speakers, she is well prepared to deal with it understandingly.

This will be an open meeting and a most cordial invitation is extended to be present, the afternoon of Monday, Jan. 17th.

RESOLUTIONS READ AT KIWANIS LUNCH

Soren Nicholai Hedegard was "Mess Chief" at Kiwanis Wednesday and he was it, too. Most-est fun.

The chief business of the hour was "resolutions by re-formers" each man giving his New Year resolutions for the benefit of Club associates. Ira Abbott, Harold Cramer and Leon Miller acted as judges, awarding first prize to Dean Whitman and second to Ed Wiesendanger. Resolutions ranged from serious to comical and all got a good hand.

Hal Morton, the new song leader, made a good impression in his tryout.

The men were much pleased with the new dining service as furnished by local caterers, Mrs. Edith Turner, Mrs. Clara Cutting and Mrs. Cora Ricker.

The new waitresses are the local Camp Fire Girls serving in pairs, Elsie Merrill and Ruth Newton doing the first shift.

Roy Archibald is mallet-man next week and promises a talk on "service" from a banking standpoint.

Boosters Rooters

Several live-wire members of the Chamber of Commerce with a crew of lusty lumberjacks made a genuine clean-up of the trees in Campbell Avenue extension last week with the result that Campbell Avenue now extends from the highway on the east to San Tomas road, two miles long right through town. Now for the grading and graveling which has already been allowed by the County Dads.

With the advent of the New Year a number of new important movements have stepped into the lime light and a bigger and better Campbell will be the result when the curtain falls at the close of the 1927 act.

The Smile of a Friend

BY O. LAWRENCE HAWTHORNE

Oh, how many hearts are longing
For a cordial word of praise,
For a smile of recognition
That will cheer their dreary days!
Everywhere are men whose labors
Earn for them our friendliness
And that frank appreciation
We should readily express.

Life is brief and time is fleeting;
Always there is urgent need
For fraternity and kindness,
Yet we pay so little heed
To the problems of our fellows;
Men must have encouragement
And full credit for their efforts
Or they cannot feel content.

Let's resolve to greet our neighbors
With a friendly word each day;
Let's be more than merely civil
As we rush along life's way;
Each of us should scatter sunshine
That will gladden every mile,
For the souls of men are yearning
For the comfort of a smile.

A LIFE VS A LETTER

Among the last words of the late R. B. Patterson, pilot of the Pacific air mail plane that crashed into a bluff near Ashland, Oregon, were: "Had there been a passenger I would not have gone up (in a wind, mist and fog.) But there was mail to carry. I know I was flying low, but thought I was over the valley."

So there was mail to carry. True to the traditions of the mail and express service, this faithful aviator's attitude was not unlike that of the famous Pony express riders of the early days, whose sole business was to get the mail through at all hazards. Such bravery is deserving of praise; but is there not a feeling of "love's labor lost" in risking human life to save mere mail? Pilot Patterson, trained in the school of duty first, said that if there had been a passenger in all respects of risk and of humanity, and his life was worth more than a few bags of mail.

It is not untimely to issue a mild challenge to our servants and their superiors when it comes to taking fatal chances either on land, on sea, or in the air. For what is "mail?" What was the "precious cargo" for which Patterson took the air knowing his danger? It consisted probably of some business letters, legal documents, a few money orders, some gushy love notes, Christmas greeting cards, and perchance a few mail-order catalogues! Could not all of these have waited until the storm was over? Would any sender or recipient of these prices of mail have been damaged or disappointed by a few hours' delay? Then Patterson's life would have been saved.

In the old days there was more excuse for getting the mail through at all hazards of human life. Necessarily, travel was slow. There were few telegraph wires, no telephones, no radio stations. There were not the substitute communications that we have now. There were hostile tribes, horse flesh to reckon with, and great expenses of open prairie and desert waste to cover. The mail was everything. Long distance communication was almost solely dependent on it. But the "mail" is not everything now. Air travel and "air science" are not out of the experimental stage.

The question raised is a close one, we admit. Discipline, obedience to orders, speed and efficiency have built up our great postal system to its splendid condition of service. Perhaps, upon a broader basis of view, a loss of life now and then is to be reconciled with the larger advantages of commerce, comfort and efficiency for the common good. It may be consistent to say that instead of avoiding danger but not going through it, we ought to endeavor to make life and commerce safe for adventure by risky indulgence. But until we reach such a stage of near-perfection, if the flying condition at any time is not safe to take up a passenger, we can't see the wisdom of the necessity of sending up a pilot to his doom with a sack of mail.

PERMANENT LICENSE PLATES

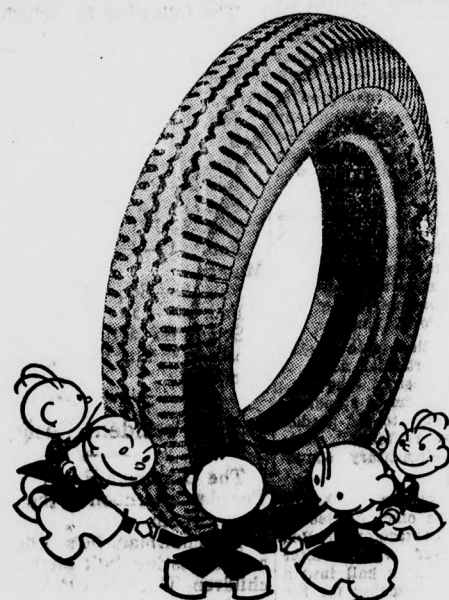

Among the reforms needed are permanent license plates for automobiles. The disadvantage and expense of changing every year outweigh any possible disadvantage of the permanent types. This reform will come with uniform traffic regulations. Congress has the power to establish and maintain highways. It would not be a serious stretch of constitutional power to also regulate traffic and vehicles on the highways.

Garbage Disposal

Through the co-operative effort of a number of the citizens, Campbell is going to have a method of disposing of all garbage.

Recently there was circulated among the citizens, a paper on which each one was asked to sign his name and the amount per month which he would subscribe for this service. There were many responses and as a result, starting next Monday, garbage will be collected from the premises of all who subscribed.

It is urged that each subscriber obtain a covered receptacle to hold the garbage, either a regular iron can made for that purpose or a strong barrel with a good cover. This is necessary to lessen the presence of flies, and also in handling the container if it is full and heavy.

It is unnecessary to state that this move is in the right direction, and it would seem that no one for the small amount of fifty cents per month could well afford to pass up this opportunity.

No excuse can now be offered for the unsanitary and ugly looking collections of cans and garbage in the back yard when each week's accumulation can be carried away so cheaply.

If you have not subscribed, do so and materially assist in a good cause.

W. I. Merrill, M. D.
Health Officer.

P T A Tuesday

The next meeting of the High School Parents and Teachers will be held in the High School Annex, in the auditorium next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The affair is of interest to young and old as you may see by consulting the year's program. Try to attend and bring a friend.

Special attention is called at this time to the P. T. A. Book Shelf in the Campbell Library, where magazines and books containing helps and beautiful stories pertaining to child welfare, and particularly the Pre-School Age are available.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Lillian Voge, your chairmen was able to obtain many new books along this line which are now subject to your call. We all need such help more than we need help in any other line of endeavor. Let us show our interest in our children's well-being and our appreciation of the librarian's effort to co-operate, by making use of this new venture in P. T. A. work.

RED CROSS BAGS CHEER SOLDIER & SAILOR BOYS

Just ten years ago this Christmas, when Europe was seething with war, volunteer workers of the American Red Cross conceived the idea of bringing cheer to American soldiers on duty at foreign stations by sending them Christmas bags, full of useful articles, toys, games and dainties.

At that time General John J. Pershing, then a Brigadier General of Cavalry, was engaged in a punitive expedition into Mexico in pursuit of the bandit, Villa, and the entire membership of the Red Cross was less than its membership in Manhattan Island now.

Women of the District of Columbia, thinking of the lonely Christmas these men would have in Mexico originated the idea of Christmas bags and so enthusiastic was the response from both officers and men that their sending became an institution. The call from headquarters this year was for 36,000 bags. These will go to soldiers, sailors, and marines stationed at Navy Yards in the Canal Zone, Haiti, Hawaii, Guam and Alaska, as well as to men in camps and barracks at home.

UNION DISTRICT

The December meeting of We and Our Neighbors club was a most enjoyable affair. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames Edwin Howes, E. O. LaMontague and M. Mirasson. The clubhouse was most attractive with Christmas decorations. Mrs. Edwin Howes presided over the business meeting. The club donated $5 for gifts for the boys at the Veterans' hospital at Palo Alto. Mrs. LaMontague, a past president of the club, was presented with a federation pin. Mrs. J. E. Weaver of Evergreen district was the speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Weaver spoke on what roses meant to her. Several poems were read by the speaker. A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Weaver for her interesting and inspiring talk. The hostesses then served delicious refreshments, the guests being seated at one long table. A miniature Christmas tree graced the center of the table, the spirit of Christmas being the keynote of the day. In January the club will entertain 12 clubs of the county federated with the state and district.

Saturday evening, January 22, an entertainment and dance will be given at the clubhouse. The committee in charge of this affair are Mesdames Arthur H. Downing, Charles Davis, H. L. Kopp, Ella Mae and Miss Lilla Downing. A cordial invitation is extended to every one.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving C. Butler spent the Christmas holidays at Santa Cruz. The We and Our Neighbors' clubhouse was the scene of a delightful Christmas gathering when the members of the Howes family held their family reunion. Those present were: Mrs. E. J. Howes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hanrahan of Cupertino, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Howes, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. LaMontague, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howes and children, Master Charles and Miss Barbara; Misses Ruby Howes, Sara Robinson, Messrs Freeman Howes, William Howes, Ellard LaMontague and J. W. Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Batlee had as their guests over the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson and son, William Jr., of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. Anderson being a girlhood friend of Mrs. Batlee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Howes had as their guests during the week Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Arthur and son, Glenn of Watsonville; Messrs Wilbur Howes and J. W. Curtis of Los Angeles.

Ellard LaMontague left on Friday to spend a few days in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kopp of Hollister spent the Christmas holidays with their sisters, the Misses Kopp.

Experience is man's best teacher if he doesn't use the paddle too hard.

Hi School Activities

During the two weeks of Christmas vacation the Freehand Drawing Class room was repaired. Although there are many inconveniences, classes are now being held in the room.

The ceiling was repaired but is of a dark color so the room appears to be dark. The desks were repaired and are now in use again. Electric lights were put in. The Freehand drawing Room is what used to be the applied arts room.

Miss Johnson, the art teacher, is doing very successful work under the circumstances in which she teaches.—Donald McCoy.

Edward Merrill reports that the classes in the annex went to work just as usual the Monday after vacation, and that they will be able to go right on with the term's work. He says, too, that vacation is over and that the students will have to settle down to work.

The fire destroyed one of the two rooms occupied by Mr. York's classes—the room that was used as a class room. The classes are now held in the old laboratory.

There was no great loss of equipment. The chairs, tables, and other furnishings of the room were removed and are now being used in the laboratory for his classes, reports Clinton Hocking.

Miss Howes now holds some of her physical education classes in the auditorium. As all the chairs are cleared out making the floor space larger, the girls have lots of fun. The "Highland Schottische," "Cloy," "Broom-dance," and many other Folk dances are taught. The pupils participate in these lessons every Wednesday. The girls are certainly glad the auditorium did not burn, because dancing is enjoyed by all and is so different from any other class in the school. Before the fire the classes were held in the auditorium, but with little floor space because there were so many chairs in the auditorium. The dancing class was benefitted by the fire—proving that "there is no great loss without some small gain."

"Willy" Le Grand. Through the prompt response of the Campbell and San Jose fire departments, the fire which partially destroyed the Annex of was extinguished in time to save the Campbell Union High School two class rooms, two lavatories and the assembly hall.

Luckily, the Christmas vacation arrived immediately, giving the trustees time to rearrange the Annex classes.

On one side of the Annex the patio was enclosed so as to make a fine, light, room. This room is used by the applied arts and mechanical drawing classes. The room adjoining it is used by the English Two and freehand drawing classes. The other rooms have been repaired. Some of the original classes are being held in them and some of the classes in the main building—Conrad Gaiser.

Golden State News of Interest to All

If there is one time, above all others, when child hygiene should be brought into play with special emphasis, it is during the period before the boy or girl enters public school, according to the biennial report just issued by the state board of health.

Dedication of the new Masonic temple in Tulare, which has been reconstructed of the old temple and which cost about $30,000, is expected to be an event of the near future. Every effort is being made to bring Grand Master Albert E. Boynton of San Francisco to Tulare to perform the dedication ceremony.

The "California Marcher," 75 years old, has invited President Coolidge to visit California and now he's tramping through the fifty-eight counties to see that all is in readiness for a presidential call. The self-styled "marcher" is Henry B. Stewart of San Diego who announced upon arrival in Sacramento recently that he has spent the last seventeen years hiking up and down the landscape of this and other countries. The aged hiker recently returned from a transcontinental tramp during which he visited President Coolidge to California.
